

As the popularity of video games has risen in the past forty or so years, it's been harder to keep track of what games you own and where. This app makes it easier for users to consolidate their collection in one place. The app will let user create entries containing the title, developer, publisher, platform, genre, format, and personal rating. These entries are then stored in a database using RoomDB. A user can manually enter in all this information or can use the search feature that connects to the Giant Bomb API to fill out the title, developer, publisher, platform and genre. There's are options for sorting the collection by personal rating, and filtering the collection by developer, publisher, platform, genre, format, and personal rating. Users will be able to update and delete these entries as they see fit.
